Asheville Native Returns Home to Open First “1 800 905 GEEK” Franchise in the Area

Asheville, NC – March 15, 2007 – For the first 18 years of his life, Phil Martin called Asheville home. In later years, his entrepreneurial career led him to other cities, yet Asheville continued to hold a special place in his heart. Now he is returning to his Asheville roots in a big way as the owner of the first 1 800 905 GEEK franchise in the area. With Martin and his Geek technician behind the wheel of their signature blue and white Chrysler PT Cruiser, 1 800 905 GEEK delivers a wide range of rapid-response, on-site computer services to Asheville’s homes and businesses alike.

For Martin, owning and operating a 1 800 905 GEEK franchise is not just about the computer services he provides—it is also about the people. “I love to solve high-tech problems and see the smiles on my customers’ faces,” Martin said. “Whether it’s helping someone recover from a hard drive failure or installing a computer network for a local business, I know I’m making a difference in people’s lives.”

When asked why he chose Asheville as the location for his 1 800 905 GEEK franchise, he replied “First, this city is amazing. There’s no place I’d rather be. And second, I looked around Asheville and realized it needed higher quality computer support. As part of the 1 800 905 GEEK family, I can provide Asheville with the same award-winning services that have made the company a trusted name across America.”
